Eden And Adenauer Reach Agreement

UNITY PLAN INCLUDES GREAT BRITAIN

BONN, Germany (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Monday they have reached complete agreement to push for European unity "in which the United Kingdom can play a full part."

Eden and Adenauer issued a confident joint communiqué on their two-day talks here on the European situation. Then the British flew on to Rome to seek Italian views on achieving unity now that France has spiked the European Defense Community plan.

Shortly after Eden left to continue his swing through the leading west European capitals, Robert D. Murphy, U. S. deputy undersecretary of state who is Washington's chief diplomatic troubleshooter, arrived here from London on an emergency mission almost certainly dealing with West German rearmament.

Murphy and U. S. High Commissioner James B. Conant conferred promptly with Adenauer. The serious nature of their talks was emphasized by a surprise disclosure the chancellor will postpone a foreign policy speech he originally scheduled for delivery Tuesday when the Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament, reconvenes.

Murphy had told newsmen his trip had nothing to do with Adenauer's speech. However, it appeared events pertaining to European defense were happening too swiftly for the chancellor to make his address. No new date was announced for the speech.

The Belgrade radio said in a broadcast Murphy will visit Yugoslavia. So far, Murphy is roughly following Eden's trail. Some British newspapers carried Washington dispatches suggesting the State Department had sent Murphy post-haste on Eden's heels, perhaps to assess what the British talks may mean. Eden and Secretary of State Dulles have not always seen eye to eye on details for the Western alliance against the Communist threat.

The Eden-Adenauer communiqué said the two statesmen had held a thorough discussion of the European situation and "found themselves in complete agreement."

"In particular," the communiqué continued, "they will pursue with the utmost vigor their efforts to achieve European unity in which the United Kingdom can play a full part. They are convinced that it is only through unity of the free nations of Europe that the necessary conditions can be created to ensure a stable peace."

Britain's refusal to join the EDC directly was one of the factors which influenced the French National Assembly to kill the treaty.

H-Bomb Atoms In Air, Wines Answer Puzzles

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—H-bomb type atoms that fall from the skies are answering some questions about man's old friend or enemy—rain. They indicate that raindrops of hurricanes or gentle drizzles are about 3 weeks old, on the average, when they fall. Moisture rising from oceans and rivers stays aloft that long before falling as rain.

Rain which falls into the oceans apparently doesn't mix much deeper than 50 yards down with the ocean water itself.

And rare old wines show that the H-bomb atom race has been going on a steady pace for at least 10 years.

The studies were made with radioactive tritium, or triple-weight hydrogen atoms. Tritium is an ingredient of H-bombs. But tritium is also formed naturally high above the earth when cosmic rays strike atoms of the atmosphere. Tritium formed this way combines with oxygen to fall as radioactive water.

Dr. W. F. Libby, Institute for Nuclear Studies, University of Chicago, told the American Chemical Society Monday of some findings based on measurements of this natural tritium.

On the average, about one tritium atom is produced every second for each square inch of the earth's surface, he says.

Since tritium atoms are radioactive, they decay or change into something else at a steady rate. Every 12½ years, half of any original amount of tritium has disappeared. This makes it possible to calculate something about the age of water in wells, volcanoes, rivers and oceans.

Democrat Leads In Maine Race For Governor

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Democrat Edmund S. Muskie recaptured the lead over Republican Gov. Burton M. Cross as tabulation of traditionally Republican Maine's early vote Monday went past the halfway mark.

The 37-year-old Democratic national committeeman had a 161-vote edge on the governor. Their totals, in 361 of 626 precincts: Cross 40,865 and Muskie 41,026.

In modern times, no Maine GOP governor has been denied reelection to a second term.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R), appeared to have been re-elected to her second term.

In 322 precincts, she had 44,291 votes to 23,871 for Paul A. Fullam (D). Fullam is a Colby College history professor in his political debut.

Rep. Clifford G. McIntire (R) also appeared to have won in the third district. Republican Reps. Robert Hale, in the first, and Charles P. Nelson, in the second, had fair margins.

Demos Advocate Reapportionment, End Of Sales Tax

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—Illinois Democrats Monday night pledged support of the blue ballot reapportionment proposal and advocated repeal of the two per cent state sales tax.

The party's state convention voted unanimously to adopt a platform containing these provisions and eight other major points.

Sen. Paul Douglas, Democratic nominee for reelection, told the delegates from throughout the state he has complete confidence in a Democratic victory in the Nov. 2 election. He said both the people of Illinois and of the nation would favor the Democrats.

The platform expressed unqualified endorsement of the blue ballot proposal to reapportion senatorial districts which will be put to the voters Nov. 2. The Republican party also has supported the amendment.

The bipartisan Illinois Committee for Constitutional Revision said the endorsement of both parties "is a great step forward in the campaign for the blue ballot."

The platform called for repeal of the state sales tax, which now is fixed at two per cent of purchases.

Other points included:

1. Support of a rigid state fair employment practices act.
2. Creation of a state crime commission.
3. Giving the vote to 18-year-olds.
4. Support of bills to give adequate public housing.
5. Opposition to a suggested Illinois "Little Taft-Hartley Act" to regulate labor in the event the national act is repealed.
6. Support of increased reform measures in state mental institutions.
7. Support of plans for construction of more state highways.
8. Support of increased state aid to schools.

Head Of Youth Commission, Ousted By Stratton, Protests

CHICAGO (AP)—Lee E. Daniels, former prosecutor, was summarily fired Monday from a state job for interfering in behalf of a firm making a slot machine device.

While Gov. Stratton was announcing Daniels' dismissal in Springfield, state police in Chicago were picking up for questioning a representative of the company making the device.

Daniels arrived in Springfield shortly after the governor announced the removal of Daniels as chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission. The ousted chairman told newsmen he is "innocent of any wrongdoing."

Daniels said he considers the situation as "unwarranted attack" on him and said he is willing to undergo a lie detector test. He talked later with Stratton.

The governor said at a brief special news conference: "I have set certain standards of performance for the members of this administration."

"When those standards are not met, even through inadvertence or a mistake in judgment, the per-

FHA Investigation Of Rackets Starts In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said Monday a gyp racket in financing home repairs has been "quite widespread" in the Chicago area.

Capehart, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, said the committee expects to show violations and irregularities in operations of the Federal Housing Administration in this area and other parts of the country at a three-day hearing beginning here Tuesday.

The Indiana senator told a news conference there is a "possibility" hoodlums may be linked with FHA scandals in this area.

The committee has called 30 witnesses to testify at the hearing, including Harry Kane a Chicago home remodeling salesman alleged to have operated a home remodeling racket here in 1950 and 1952 under various aliases.

Capehart said he expects the testimony to show fraud in overcharges of customers whose homes were repaired or modernized with FHA loans. He said there also will be evidence of builders constructing buildings for less than the amount of mortgages guaranteed by the FHA, but that these "windfall profits" cases were less prevalent in this area than the home repair gyp racket.

Capehart said witnesses would include Albert H. Cole of Washington, administrator of the FHA.

Among Illinois witnesses, Clyde Levitt and Arthur Winters, one from Rantoul, Nels V. Olson, and an Elgin couple who got an FHA-guaranteed loan, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Villegas, are due to testify.

Wife To Divorce Dr. Small, Freed Of Murdering Playboy

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Edith S. Small has filed a divorce suit against her husband, Dr. Kenneth Small, recently acquitted in the murder of her playboy lover, the Detroit News said Monday.

The newspaper said Mrs. Small filed the suit Thursday, the day after her dentist-husband was freed from Ionia State Hospital where he had been detained pending outcome of sanity hearings.

By court order, details of the cases were not disclosed and will not become known until it reaches open court.

Mrs. Small, 30, is reported out of town visiting friends. Her 31-year-old husband is living at his home in Detroit with the couple's three young sons.

Dr. Small was acquitted in the slaying of Jules Lack, 45, of New York.

Lack was shot to death at a swanky Lake Michigan summer home where he and Mrs. Small had been visiting friends over Memorial Day.

Dr. Small was acquitted on a first degree murder charge. He pleaded that his wife's friendship with Lack had driven him temporarily insane.

Eisenhower: U.S. Will Continue Defense Of Vital Interests

Puerto Rican Bares Nationalist Plot Against Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Puerto Rican junta chief testified Monday that Nationalists who planned the March 1 shooting in Congress had also intended to attack President Eisenhower.

The attack was planned months before a group of Puerto Rican Nationalists sprayed the House of Representatives with bullets, wounding five congressmen, the witness said.

The witness, Gonzalo Lebron Sotomayor, testified at the trial of 13 Puerto Ricans charged with seditious conspiracy to overthrow the U. S. government by force and violence.

Among the defendants was his sister, Delores Lolita Lebron. With three men, she was seized in the Congress shooting. The four were sentenced earlier in Washington to prison terms ranging from 16 to 50 years.

Lebron Sotomayor, in a dramatic court session, said that in November 1953, Julio Pinto Gandia, then a Nationalist party leader in New York, told him attacks would be made on Congress, "the Presidency" and on Fornos Isern, resident commissioner for Puerto Rico.

Pinto Gandia is one of 13 defendants on trial.

The witness, who has pleaded guilty to the sedition charge and is now being held in $25,000 bail pending sentencing, described himself as former head of the Chicago junta of the Nationalist party.

He said that several months after his talk with Pinto Gandia his sister told him she had been given a "special mission," which apparently involved the March 1 shooting.

She also told him, Lebron Sotomayor testified, that the party "had ordered her to immediate action and that I must tell her the position of the party members in Chicago because there was to be instant use of various members in Chicago and New York for attacks in various places in the United States."

"I told her I was opposed to the plan. I told her it was a stupid and criminal plan and that the Chicago members would follow me," Lebron Sotomayor testified.

"With tears in her face she told me she did not agree with the plan of attack on the United States and that she had arrived," he told Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh and a jury.

He added that she returned to New York, and two weeks later the Congress shooting took place.

Lebron Sotomayor said the Nationalist party had planned an attack "on important points" in the continental United States to win independence for Puerto Rico.

The prisoner, Charles B. Baker, 29, is quoted as having said: "I know the burial place of Clem Graver."

No clues have been found in the kidnapping.

Baker, formerly of Kentucky, was sentenced last January in Chicago's Federal District Court to three years for forging and cashing government checks.

Baker had said earlier that while he was in the Cook County jail he learned of Graver's burial. Baker said Milton Horace Putnam, 31, a fellow prisoner told him the kidnappers used his car without his knowledge but that he had later learned of the kidnapping, murder and burial.

Putnam is now serving a federal prison term for hijacking $40,000 worth of whisky.

State's attorney's investigators had questioned Baker before but he had insisted he be taken out of prison and allowed to point out the Graver burial spot. FBI agents who have questioned Baker are reported skeptical of his story.

TESTIFIES AT PROBE—Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, left, whom Sen. McCarthy is accused of abusing at a closed hearing in New York, and Maj. Gen. Kirk Lawton, former commander at Fort Monmouth, N. J., whom the Wisconsin senator charged, heard antagonistic remarks made by Gen. Zwicker.

Censure Inquiry Ends On Zwicker Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP)—The McCarthy censure hearings ended Monday with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) apparently defeated in a last-minute move to have the six investigating senators bring in a new staff of lawyers to guide them in writing their report.

The end of the nine-day inquiry came at 3:18 p.m. (CST) after the last principal witness, Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, testified he was "very much opposed" to the Army's promoting and honoring discharging Maj. Irving Peress, whom McCarthy has called a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Zwicker declined to express an opinion on that subject last Feb. 18—the day McCarthy is accused of abusing the general while questioning him about Peress, a dental officer who had refused to answer McCarthy's questions about alleged Communist activity.

Monday, however, with a Pentagon lawyer sitting beside him, Zwicker gave his opinion in vigorous tones, and just as firmly declared he was "very much opposed to any officer in the United States Army invoking the Fifth Amendment."

McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, called on Zwicker to say why he didn't answer these questions when McCarthy first put them to him—and thus prevent, the lawyer intimated, much of the McCarthy-Zwicker unpleasantness.

Zwicker replied: "I am much, much more familiar with proceedings and hearings—and what I could say and what I couldn't say—now than I was on Feb. 18."

The charge of abusing Zwicker is one of five groups of accusations filed against McCarthy by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) and two other senators—accusations that have brought upwards of 250,000 words of testimony from 10 witnesses.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) brought the public hearings to an end after the McCarthy side proposed "independent" counsel be brought in to help draft the committee's report, contending the present committee lawyers inevitably have assumed the role of prosecutors.

Williams, the McCarthy counsel, argued it would be expecting "superhuman" performance of the present lawyers, E. Wallace Chadwick and Guy de Faria, if they were asked to decide impartially on the various conflicts of law and fact.

Watkins said, however, that the committee and its staff have been dedicated from the first to a let-the-chips-fall-where-they-may gathering of the facts.

The 68-year-old chairman did not formally reject Williams' motion. But he and the other committee members voiced complete confidence in Chadwick, de Faria and their assistants. Watkins said there was "no indication, in my opinion, that they haven't tried to be fair."

McCarthy plainly took it for granted his last-minute move had been defeated. He said in an interview before television cameras outside the hearing room that he didn't like the idea of "the district attorneys" sitting on the jury.

McCarthy got a round of applause from some of the spectators as he emerged from the final session. There was a previous ripple of handclapping during the morning session, apparently for McCarthy, but Watkins sharply quelled it with his gavel.

The chairman said the committee will start at once to write its report. He said the committee has made no decision whether it will "go so far as to make recommendations" as to what the Senate should do.

Deluge Of Nickles Fill Mail Of Mt. Pleasant, Mich. Couple

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—Not since oil was struck here in the midst of the depression has there been such excitement in this Michigan city of 11,393. And another bonanza is the cause.

This time it is a deluge of nickels. Then it was Michigan's first gushing oil field.

Postmaster Raymond Hooker estimated 32,000 letters came in Monday's mail for young Mrs. Margaret Deibel and her red-haired, appliance salesman husband, Charles. And Hooker predicted Tuesday's mail likely would bring 50,000 to add to the total of 76,000 already on hand.

Walt Deibel, Charlie's brother, reported the first few score envelopes opened usually had two or more nickels in them. Some had a dollar.

It all started last Friday when Charlie and Walt and their wives went to the televised Gary Moore Show in New York. They were vacationing in the East.

In what the Deibels swear was an unheeded position of the show, Moore called 26-year-old Margaret from the audience. She had asked whether summer replacement on his show did it for free plays him.

What'll Mr. and Mrs. Deibel do with the money? Margaret answers that rather emphatically: "Put it in the old sock, of course. The children must be educated."

Besides, Charlie already has won her a washer, a dryer and an electric range in sales contests of the Consumers Power Co., which em-

Advanced No Specific Decisions

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower declared Monday that American policy in the Communist-troubled Far East continues to be defense of "the vital interests of the United States wherever they may arise."

The President told newsmen at the summer White House that policy was reaffirmed at Sunday's top secret meeting of the National Security Council here.

Also reaffirmed, he added, was America's determination "where our vital interests demand it" to support its friends in the Far East "in their security and in their own interests."

Eisenhower said that at the Security Council meeting "no specific decisions were advanced for action" on such matters as whether the United States will help defend the Chinese Nationalist island of Quemoy, which has been under shellfire from the Red China mainland.

Along with the shelling, which has killed two American Army officers, the Reds have been doing a lot of talking about "liberating" the island of Formosa, the Nationalists' main stronghold.

Secretary of State Dulles, on arrival in Washington Monday morning from the council meeting in Denver, said American policy is to keep the Chinese Communists guessing whether this country will fight for Quemoy.

Dulles told a news conference here Sunday it is up to the military "in the first instance" to say what Nationalist islands to defend in carrying out America's basic decision to defend Formosa against any Red assault.

Dulles also said U.S. military might will block any Communist move to take Formosa.

Eisenhower, in an off-the-cuff statement, said Sunday's council meeting, the first outside of Washington, "was unprecedented, but it was natural."

Dulles, he noted, had just returned from the Orient and, "We met in order that all of us together could have the benefit of his observations and the details of his report." Then the chief executive said:

"No specific decisions were advanced for action. It was merely a consulting together as to the place of the United States in the world today in the particular area—in that troubled area of the Western Pacific—and reaffirming our devotion to certain policies."

"These are, of course, to defend the vital interests of the United States wherever they may arise, to make better partners of old friends, and to get new friends wherever we can."

"And, of course, where our vital interests demand it, to support them in their security and in their own interests."

Later Monday the President got a first look at his new plane, a sleek Super Constellation with a cruising speed of about 330 miles an hour—60 miles faster than the Columbine, the plane he has been using since he took office.

"By golly, isn't that a ship," Eisenhower exclaimed as he inspected the new plane at Lowry Air Force Base.

The President won't get his first ride in it for a while.

His pilot, Lt. Col. William G. Draper, wants to try the plane out for two or three more weeks before taking the chief executive aloft.

BATTLESHIP MISSOURI GOES INTO MOTHBALLS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The battleship Missouri steamed out of the Golden Gate Monday toward retirement after a farewell here by Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, who signed the Japanese surrender on her decks nine years ago.

Naval heroine of World War II and the Korean War, the "Mighty Mo" moved out to sea through a fog bank and turned north toward the Bremerton, Wash., shipyard where she will go into mothballs.

The 58,000-ton battleship was toured by thousands of visitors during a three-day stopover here.

THE SCHOOL PROBLEM

By 1960, little more than five years from now, it is expected there will be some 8,000,000 more students in American schools than are currently attending. Somehow, provision must be made to house and teach this tremendous influx.

The problem is not a distant one, as everyone knows who has been watching school trends. For instance, this very fall there will be 1,692,000 more elementary pupils, 219,000 more high school and 89,000 more college students.

Dr. Samuel Brownell, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says the country will have to triple its present rate of school construction to keep pace with the need. And yet the building of schools in the past two years has been at the highest rate in the country's history.

As for teachers, right now there is a minimum need for 118,000 elementary school instructors to take care of mounting enrollment and to replace teachers leaving the field. Only about 45,000 qualified teacher graduates are apparently available, so the shortage will be 73,000.

As the great wave of new pupils moves up into high school and college years, the pressure for many more teachers will be felt more acutely in those brackets, too.

Congress addressed itself to this problem during the session just closed, and many lawmakers agitated for speedy action. But President Eisenhower and his key aides succeeded in blocking current enactment of aid-to-education legislation.

The President opposed action not because he believes the problem exaggerated but because he wants it studied more thoroughly. Consequently, he has now launched perhaps the most comprehensive inquiry into American schools ever undertaken. He is seeking the best cure he can find for a dilemma that has become painfully chronic.

Mr. Eisenhower wants all the governors to call state conferences of citizens and educators to appraise the situation. Then he wishes to call a White House conference to pull findings and recommendations together and shape a program.

The big question, of course, is how much of the load can be managed by the states and cities. The President is an advocate of state and local self-help wherever it is feasible. But many lawmakers and others believe federal assistance is essential. If that is so, then the next question which must be settled is how this aid can be managed without getting into federal dictation over education.

Certainly the answers to these questions cannot be long delayed. Nor can governmental economy be used as an excuse for doing nothing. At stake is the effective preparation of millions of young Americans for life in a difficult, troubled world.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Sen. McCarthy nears the end of the first act in one of the most important, if not the most colorful, dramas of his life: His struggle to keep the Senate from censuring him.

There are three acts in this drama:

Act 1: For two weeks a special, six-man committee has considered charges — by Sens. Flanders (R-Vt.), Morse (Ind-Ore), Fulbright (D-Ark) — that his official conduct over the years calls for censure.

The committee's public hearings may end today or Tuesday. The Wisconsin Republican, as in other Senate inquiries involving him, has been the central figure. But he didn't dominate these hearings.

Act 2: Once the public hearings end, Watkins' committee goes into private conferences to decide what to do next. It can turn over to the full Senate a simple finding of facts, without recommendations.

If that happens, it is doubtful the full Senate will return before the Nov. 2 congressional elections to vote on McCarthy. It could wait. It would have the rest of November and most of December to act.

Or, the Watkins committee could recommend censure to the Senate. If that was done sufficiently far ahead of Nov. 2, the full Senate wouldn't have much excuse for not returning to vote before election day.

Over the weekend some of McCarthy's friends reportedly said he expected a bad report card from the Watkins committee and, in order to prepare for what lay ahead, would do no cross-country campaigning before election day.

Act 3: The full Senate, or those who showed up, would go into session and lengthy debate to consider the evidence or the recommendations of the Watkins committee. McCarthy and his Senate friends would fight.

If the Senate refused to censure him, McCarthy could take it as vindication of his conduct over the past four years since he became famous hunting for Communists.

Would he grow stronger thereafter in his search and his tactics? He might. McCarthy is an aggressive man. Apparently it's part of his philosophy of conduct. He told the Watkins committee: "Let's not be puny."

McCarthy's critics inside and outside the Senate would hardly be silenced by clearance of McCarthy in this episode. No doubt they would continue to gun for him.

What faces him if the Senate censures him?

He would suffer no tangible damage in the sense of losing his Senate seat or the chairmanship of this Investigating subcommittee. He'd keep both. Neither is at stake.

Any damage he suffered, and it might be enough to ruin his career, would be in the minds of others. Next to unseating him, censure is the strongest condemnation the Senate can inflict on a member.

His foes and his critics would, no doubt, never let the recollection of censure die although, since he doesn't stand for reelection until 1966, McCarthy by distinguished work might offset the Senate rebuke before that.

But in that case he would have an uphill struggle — against the verdict of his own colleagues — whereas now he is just a man replying to critics.

And the injury to McCarthy's own fluency might not be considerable. He is fluent in speech and action, driving hard. He is what he is, and he got where he is because of his unique composition as a man.

But how effective could he hope to be again if, before acting or speaking he had to stop and think: Will this give my enemies ammunition that might lead to some new action by the Senate? That wouldn't be the same McCarthy.

For a long time after censure he could hardly help being self-conscious since he would bear a public mark, and all eyes would be watching to see if he had changed his ways or was persisting in the ways that got him censured.

NEW YORK — Most people have dreams. Sydney M. Siegel has a "Dreamopolis."

That's a Dream City.

At 39 Siegel says he is now ready to make his dream city come true—at a cost of $175,000,000.

He and a group of 16 syndicate teammates figure that with that sum of money they can build what they believe will be America's first thoroughly planned modern city.

It will be called Suffolk City. Siegel has assembled 2,000 acres for its site near Yaphank, at the geographical heart of Long Island, some 56 miles from New York City.

"I have been working on this for more than 6 years," said Siegel quietly, "and when I have finished it, I don't care what happens to me afterwards."

"The men who are in this with me need money like I need hair—and I don't need hair. But it's not a philanthropy. It's just a mixture of good business and good works."

What he has in mind is an ideal suburban community of 6,000 moderately priced homes. It will be completely self-sustaining, having its own industries, schools, churches, and shopping centers.

"The New York area is one of the greatest reservoirs of skilled workmen in the world," said Siegel. "And most of them would accept less pay—and save money at that—if they could work close to their homes and avoid commuting into the city."

Five years ago, Siegel said, the project of building a complete new city would have been rejected as fantastic.

"Today businessmen want to rent space in your shopping center before you can build it. What used to be fantastic is now accepted as commonplace."

Siegel expects to start building his dream community in the spring and finish it in about 30 months.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Today Universal City will be harder to get into than Oak Ridge, Tenn. The reason: Lady Godiva is taking her ride.

Sound like a publicity stunt? Could be. But Universal-International studios is playing it very straight-faced.

Last week a memo went out to all departments. "Gate officers have been instructed to honor no passes on this date (13) and all regular studio tours have been canceled." The edit added that the studio's back lot would be "off limits" to all workers except those connected with the picture, "Lady Godiva of Coventry."

You'd think they were demonstrating a secret weapon or something. On second thought, maybe they are.

Her name is Maureen O'Hara, but she wouldn't go along with the studio's gag. Not Maureen, who has an innate Irish modesty to curb her even if the Johnson of fiction didn't put up barriers.

But first we'll let Arthur Lubin, the director, have his say, although I must warn you that Maureen's version and Arthur's do not agree.

Says Lubin, a little puckishly: "I plan to shoot the scene as sort of a strip tease. I'll show a little leg, then a little shoulder and so forth. Actually, it will be in the best of taste."

"She'll wear as little as we can get away with. A fig leaf here and there."

I asked Lubin what advice he had received from the Johnson of fiction.

"Oh, they wanted the whole thing done by shadows on the wall," he replied. "Shadows on the wall? We couldn't do that to the public."

Now comes Miss O'Hara in a full-length costume, with red hair. "Fig leaves!" she exclaimed. "Do you know what will be between me and the outer air? A leotard, that's what."

A leotard is a close-fitting seamless garment. You've seen 'em on acrobats.

"A girl must preserve her modesty," said Maureen. "An actress may not always maintain dignity, but she can be modest."

Try Tomato Noodle Bisque For School Child's Lunch

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Foods and Markets Editor

A school child's lunch, complete with milk, should supply about 1-3 of his daily nutritional needs. Whether served at home, in school or carried in a lunch box, nutritionists say it should contain not less than these foods: 1/2 pint milk to drink, 2 ounces lean meat, poultry, fish, cheese or 1 egg, or 1/2 cup cooked dry beans or peas, or 4 tablespoons peanut butter.

Also 1/4 cup vegetables or fruit, or both, as well as 1 or more portions bread or muffins made of whole grain cereal or enriched flour, and 2 teaspoons butter or fortified margarine.

To help mothers prepare adequate lunches for their school children, we asked a New York nutritionist to give us some special children's lunch recipes.

Tomato Noodle Bisque (6 servings)

Two cans condensed tomato soup, 2 cups milk, 1 medium onion, peeled and halved; 2 medium tomatoes, stem end removed, 2-3 cup thin noodles, 1 bay leaf, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Remove onion, bay leaf and tomatoes; strain onion and tomatoes back into soup. Add sugar and salt; bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; serve garnished with small sprig of watercress.

King Midas' Chipped Beef (4 servings)

Manners Make Friends

Most smoking manners are the same for men and women. However, one difference is that while a man may smoke while walking along a city street, it is still considered in very bad taste for a woman to do so.

Once LADIES didn't smoke—now all that is expected of them is that if they do smoke, they'll smoke like ladies.

Scientists Get Tangled in Security Program Red Tape

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A dozen scientists from the U. S. government's National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md., had to be given a new security check before they were cleared to take part in the program of the International Congress of Pathologists.

Meeting eight miles away in Washington during the week of Sept. 6.

This newest development in the government's apparently ever-widening curbs on the freedom of scientists to go where they please and speak as they please is the result of a system set up to check security clearances on Americans going abroad or foreigners coming to the U. S. for international conferences.

But once the machinery was set up for checking these movements of scientists, it simply couldn't be changed to make exceptions for Americans attending international scientific conferences in the United States. Their clearances had to be ground through the mill just like the others.

FORTUNATELY, no American scientist got caught or hurt in this processing. All the National Institute of Health specialists were cleared and read their scientific papers on schedule at the Shoreham hotel. But this does represent a new high in government security precautions—for what amounts to a 25-cent bus ride from Bethesda to Washington.

There isn't anything that can possibly be secretive or subversive about pathology, which is the science of disease. A pathologist is a kind of doctor's doctor.

In an operating ward, the surgeon will give a piece of diseased tissue to the pathologist to have him tell what's wrong with it. He may find cancer. Or he may find, for example, that an appendix has been cut out for the 100th time and not because it was infected.

AMONG THE WASHINGTON scientists who had to be cleared for this international pathology conference and the subjects of their papers, in nontechnical language, were these:

Dr. Chapman H. Binford, variations of fungus in tissues.

Dr. Sidney J. Cutler, probability of cancer for smokers.

Dr. Thelma B. Dunn, comparison of lesions in mice and men.

Dr. George L. Fite, leprosy patterns related to geography.

Dr. R. J. Huebner and W. P. Rowe, a new group of viruses possibly responsible for respiratory tract disease.

Dr. W. C. Hueper, occupational diseases in modern times, coming from pesticides, detergents, sprays, paints, cosmetics, etc.

The more doctors can freely exchange information about these and other far more technical subjects in the 250 papers on their Washington program, the more rapid will be the conquest of disease.

THAT'S WHY MANY scientists complain that overemphasis on censorship and security clearance may become a roadblock to progress. As Dr. J. R. Schenken of Omaha, Neb., president of this International Congress on Clinical Pathology, put it in his address:

"We meet as a group of scientists who have specialized in medicine, in an atmosphere free from government restrictions, military censorship, or the security surveillance of secret police. . . . But what assurance do we have that medicine will continue to remain outside the domain of security regulations, secret police, political restraints and the like?"

The way the U. S. government got into giving clearances to its own delegates to this meeting is the usual story of red tape which once wound up, had to be unwound as a matter of routine.

Last year congressional appropriations committee members complained about the amount of travel by members of the U. S. Public Health Service, under which National Institute of Health operates.

A checking procedure was then set up. On all requests for travel, it was to be determined first, whether there was enough money to pay for it and, second, whether the person doing the traveling had full security clearance under the President's executive order 10450.

Anyone attending a national conference in the U. S. requires no clearance. Or, anyone attending an international conference in the U. S. needs no clearance if he just goes and listens, keeping his mouth tight shut and taking no part in the program.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Earliest Possible Attention Should Be Given to Stuttering

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written For NEA Service

About one or two out of every one hundred persons has a speech defect known as stuttering. This always begins early in childhood and is about four times as common among boys as among girls. It is not restricted to any level of society, and afflicts the poor as much as the rich. Essentially, stuttering is a disturbance in the rhythm of speech. There are spasms of repeating sounds or blocking of the speech sounds for a few moments.

There are several theories as to what causes stuttering, but it certainly seems to be a nervous or emotional disorder. Stuttering is not inherited, but some children are born with a tendency to it, probably because their nervous systems are particularly susceptible to this speech difficulty.

Stuttering appears to develop in two stages. It is much easier to treat during the first stage before the child has developed feelings of inferiority and anxiety. For this reason the earliest possible attention to stuttering is recommended.

Every preschool child who shows early signs of stuttering should receive immediate treatment.

A Stuttering Child should never be punished with a hope of breaking the habit. The child can't help it. At this stage treatment is aimed largely at providing as calm a life as possible. Games or amusements which are too exciting, and family quarrels and the like, are bad for the stuttering youngster.

Left-handedness is probably not fundamentally related to stuttering. A left-handed child who is made to use his right instead of his left is being forced to do something contrary to what was intended by nature. This, of course, puts an added strain on the nervous system and in a child who is predisposed to stuttering might be serious enough to bring on the symptoms.

A Great Deal has been learned about stuttering and its treatment in recent years. When treatment is begun early the results are often astonishingly good.

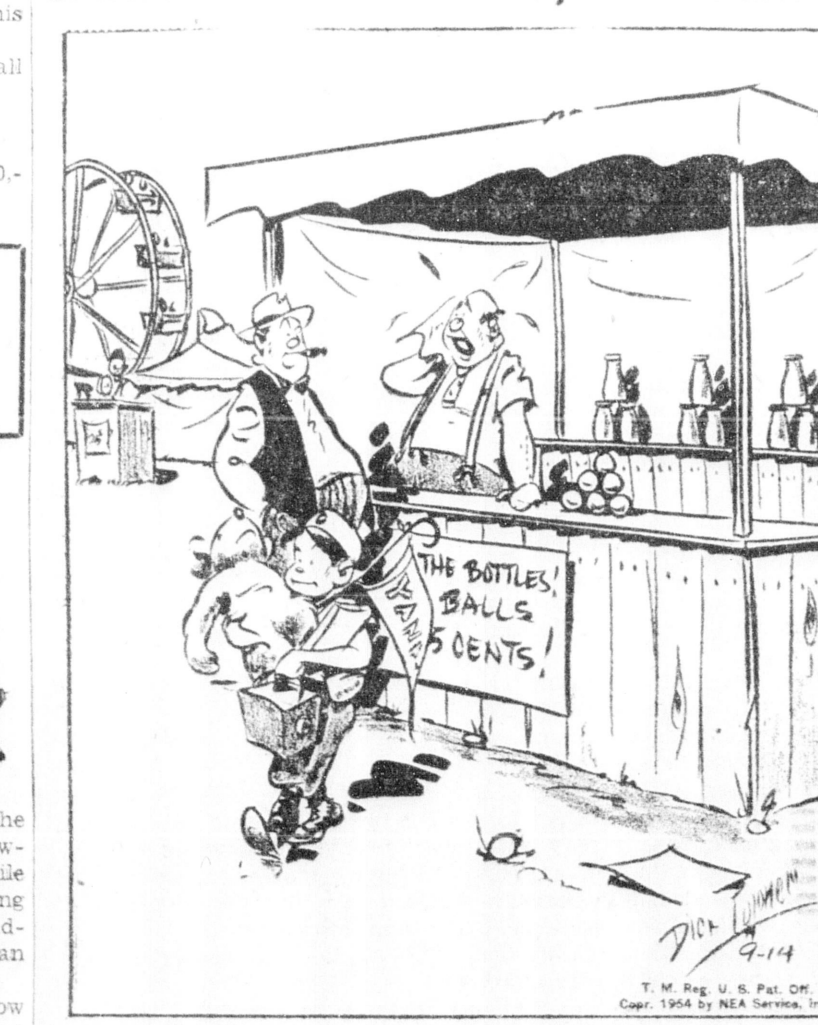

Many famous people have suffered from speech defects, including Moses, Aristotle, Virgil, Charles Lamb, and Clara Barton, the founder of the American Red Cross. A speech defect, therefore, is not necessarily a hopeless impediment to great accomplishment. It is rather a difficulty to conquer.

The Mayas were geniuses at astronomy and temple building but produced no practical inventions.

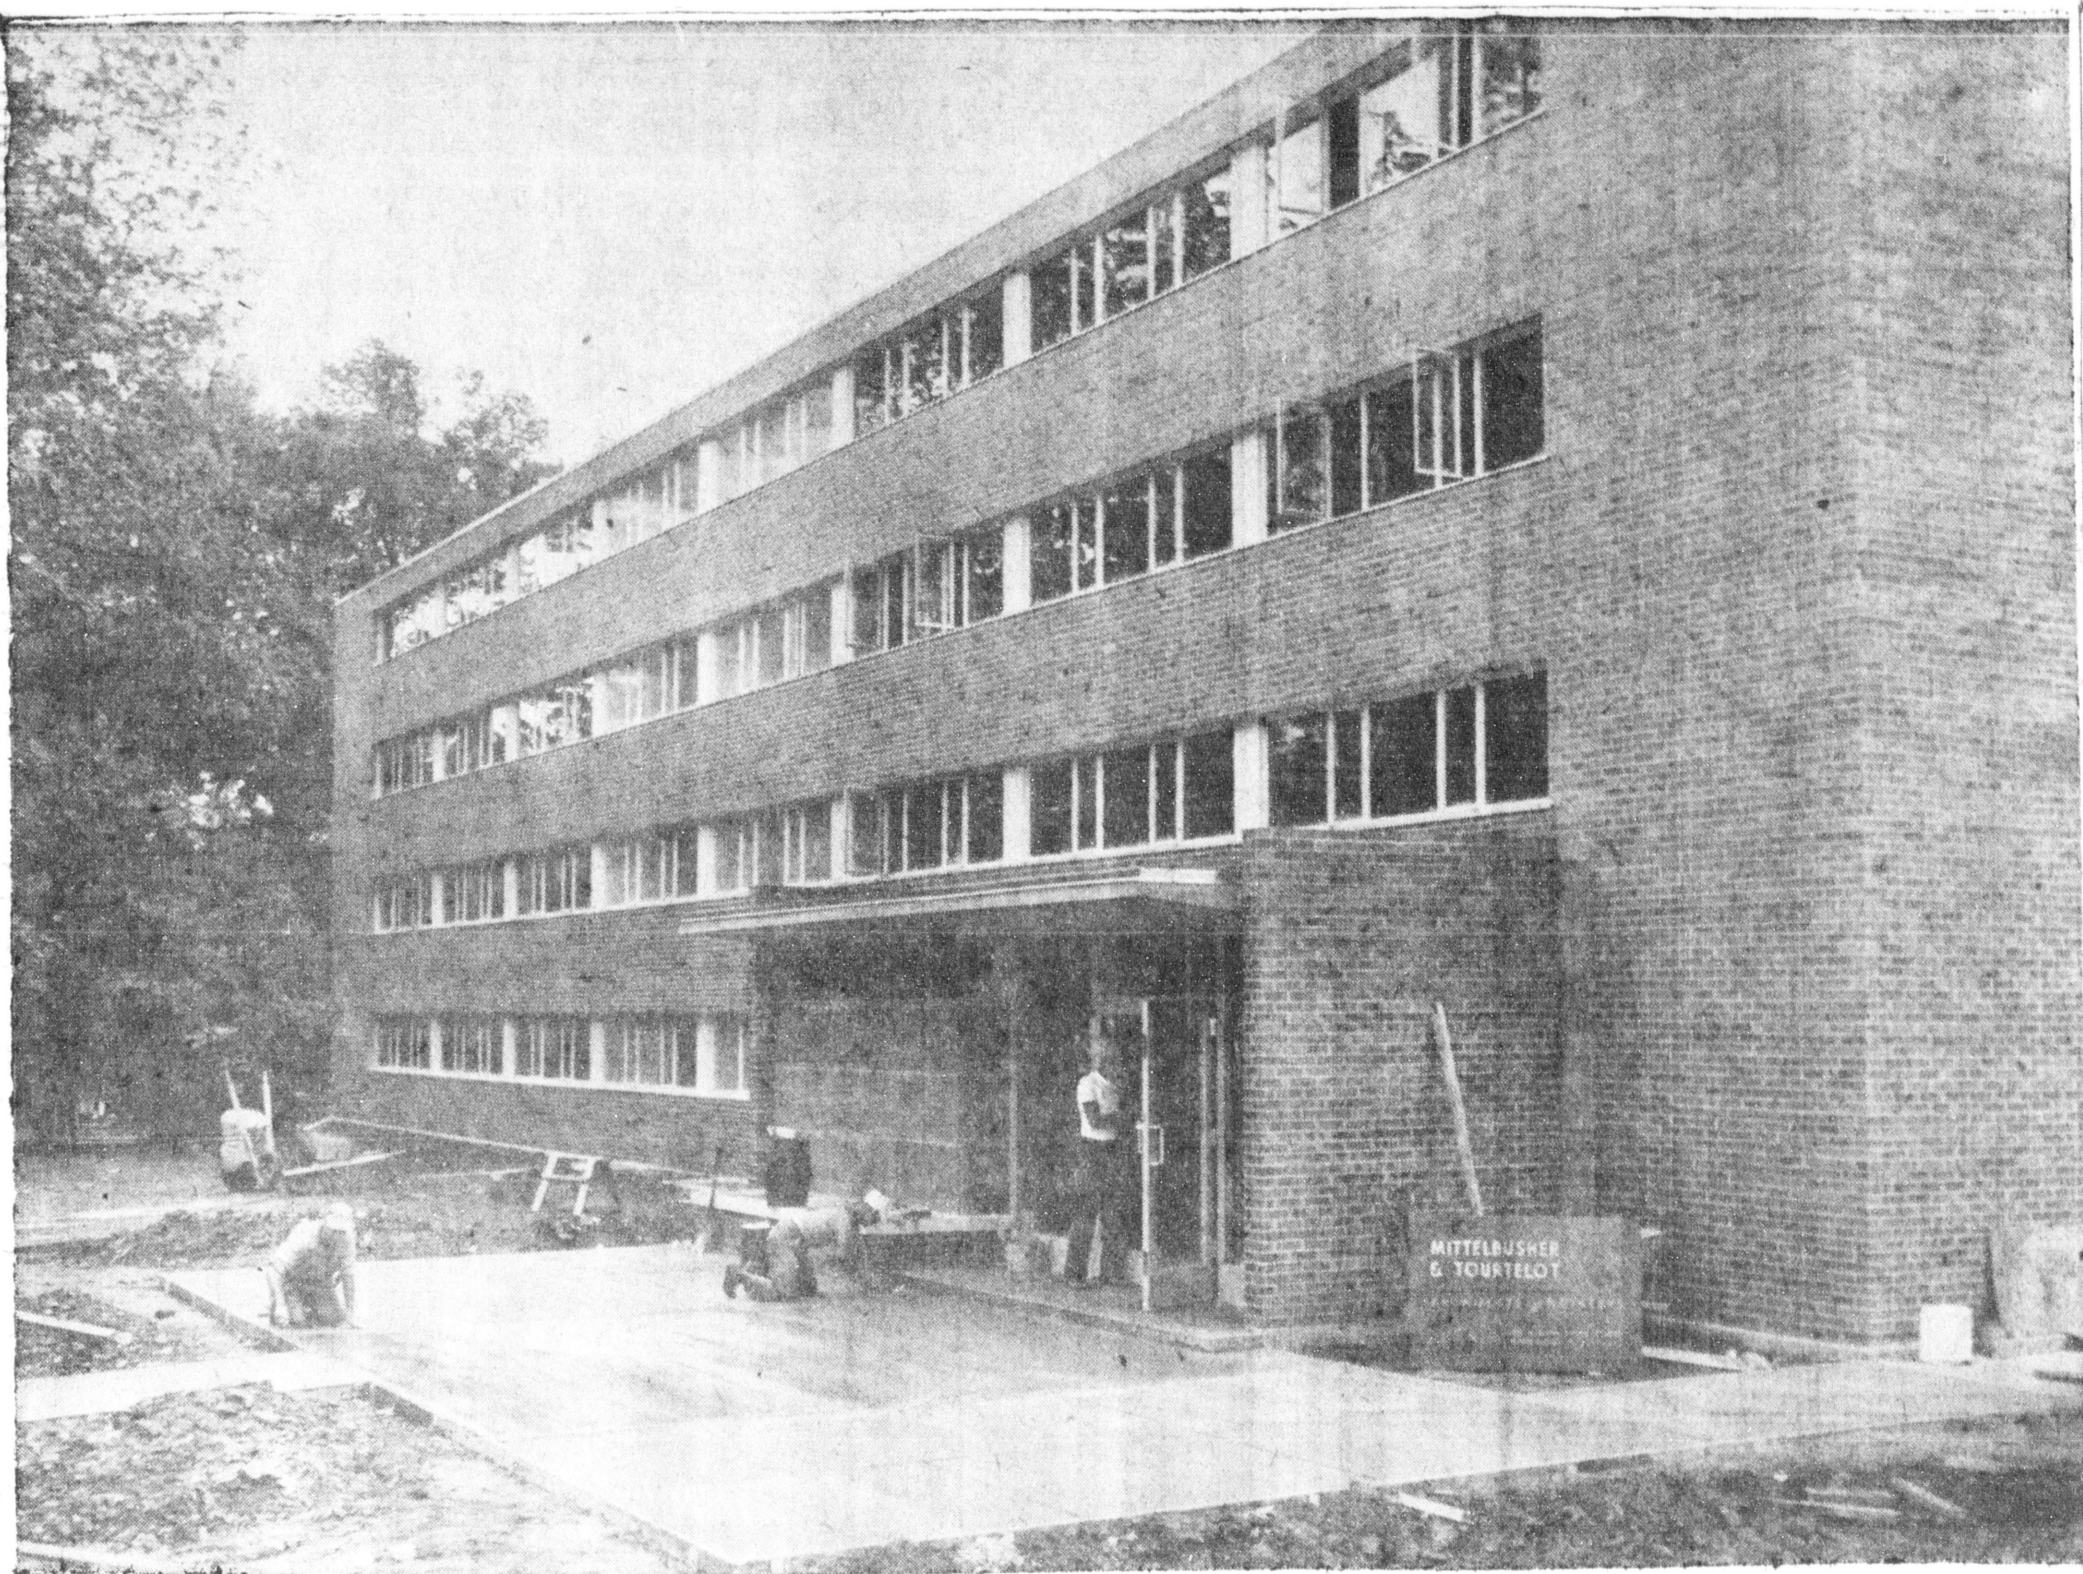

From September 1953 to April 1954 (the off season) 200,849 Americans traveled to Europe—82 per cent more than the previous year.

New Men's Dormitory At Illinois College Nears Completion

Free Book on Arthritis And Rheumatism

How To Avoid Crippling Deformities

An amazing newly enlarged 44-page book entitled "Rheumatism" will be sent free to anyone who will write for it.

It reveals why drugs and medicines give only temporary relief and fail to remove the causes of the trouble; explains a specialized non-surgical, non-medical treatment which has proven successful for the past 33 years.

You incur no obligation in sending for this instructive book. It may be the means of saving you years of untold misery. Write today to The Ball Clinic, Dept. 1218, Excelsior Springs, Missouri.

A new day in the housing of students at Illinois College is to dawn this September. The new Men's Dormitory next to the Memorial Physical Education Building on Mound Avenue will be ready for occupancy with the opening of college on September 20. The cost of the dormitory's construction is financed in part by gifts of alumni and friends. The remaining cost is borne by money borrowed from the Federal Government at a low interest rate to be repaid over a period of forty years.

Besides the new dormitory, there is a flurry of activity going on about the other buildings and on the campus itself. Crampton Hall has undergone a complete rehabilitation this summer. For the girls who are moving from Colonial Inn into Crampton the latter building is being fitted with a large lounge, a laundry, a sick room, much new furniture and improved bathrooms. Last winter two architects, a building contractor and a plant engineer made separate surveys of the college buildings. Each of these surveys indicated it was economically unwise to put any more money for repairs into certain buildings. With this information the Board of Trustees decided to raze the old Gymnasium, Kamm House, and the Club House.

The remaining buildings on the campus are being put back into first class shape, most of them this summer. Increased appropriations are helping partially in this operation. Borrowed funds and gifts from friends of the college take care of the rest. Whipple Hall is being touchpointed. Beecher, Tanner, Fayerweather, Federal, and the Engineer's House and Whipple are being painted. Baxter Hall is also receiving attention and being refurbished. The roofs and gutters of all buildings are being repaired. Trees are being sprayed and several old ones removed. The driveway through the campus has been discontinued and small parking areas created at each end of the old roadway.

Illinois College has the same attractive and desirable campus and this September new and returning students will be even more pleased with its changed appearance.

DeLa Philathea Class Holds Roodhouse Meet

ROODHOUSE—The DeLa Philathea class of the Baptist church opened the year's work with a pot-luck supper meeting held in the church Thursday evening with Henrietta Farley and her committee in charge of arrangements.

The supper celebrated the birthday of the teacher, Leah Martin, whose anniversary occurs Sept. 28, and that of a number of members whose birthday will occur this month or did fall in July or August.

The tables were decorated for the occasion with blue and white tap-ers, and matching crepe paper, birthday napkins, and several large cakes baked especially for the supper and served with homemade ice cream. The nut cups placed at each plate were filled with mints and suckers and balloons for favors.

It was voted to hold a rummage sale Saturday, Oct. 16, in the park. Wanda Taylor of the finance committee and her helpers are in charge of the sale. It was also voted to contract for special church stationery to sell for class profit.

Leta Ballard, who gave the devotion, spoke on "Ways and Means through Which God Works." Mrs. J. R. Alford was a guest.

Guest night will be observed at the October meeting.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

Associated Press News Analyst
Official comment following the National Security Council meeting at Denver would indicate that the American decision on whether to defend Quemoy Island against possible Communist invasion depends entirely on the military estimate of the cost of such an operation compared with the island's relation to the defense of Formosa.

That can hardly be the whole story. Military authorities in Washington are reported confident that the 7th Fleet, with help from the big American Air Force bases in the area, could prevent a Red invasion of Quemoy despite its nearness to the mainland.

Since that would not involve troops with their landing craft, and since at this point the Red Chinese air strength does not appear too formidable, the cost, in relative military parlance, would not appear exorbitant if the island were really important to Formosa's defense.

There is a question about that. Quemoy was defended and held by the Chinese Nationalists in 1949 because of its two-way strategic location. Located at the mouth of Amoy Harbor, it is able to keep tabs on Red movements and its guns would look down the throats of an invasion force headed for Formosa, unless the Red air force could first neutralize it.

It also plays an important role as a possible staging area in the Nationalist dream of returning to the mainland. From this standpoint it is extremely important that free Chinese morale, not only on Formosa, but in China.

Strictly from the standpoint of military defense of Formosa, however, Quemoy is merely an outpost which would not be long defended against all-out Red attack aimed at the big island. In that light, no great price would be paid for its defense if the Reds make it the object of a limited invasion.

These military aspects, however, by no means constitute the whole picture. The political aspects obviously play a greater part in American consideration than the Dulles and other statements indicate.

Peiping may want to capture Quemoy as a token of good faith in its promise to eventually take Formosa. In that the regime is fostering not merely a Communist, but an old Chinese dream, and thus confuses many a Chinese mind.

But another and probably more important Red purpose in the recent activity around Quemoy is to test the determination of the United States.

A successful defense of Quemoy against a limited-objective invasion now would probably set back any Red movement toward Formosa for a long time.

Also, despite the fact no commitment has ever been made by the United States Quemoy is still held by the free world. It's loss would be another black eye in an area where the free world has just received terrific blows.

Even if the military decided the island is not essential to them, the overall decision could hardly rest on that alone, any more than it did when a similar decision had been made about Korea.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving And Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment of saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Jacksonville, Ill., Wednesday ONLY, Sept. 15, 1954. These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Illinois Hotel on Wednesday ONLY, Sept. 15, 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 8—In an interview here today D. Russell Collins, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Collins Hair and Scalp Experts Inc. said "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Collins firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Collins said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Collins treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Collins specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in the lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Collins firm can perform wonders. Every one is given a complete private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION

This examination is very thorough and highly technical, it requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge.

References: First National Bank and Trust Co. of Oklahoma City

NO CURE-ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Collins emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Collins wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Collins said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

If it worries you call Trichologist Rex Ochs at the Illinois Hotel in Jacksonville, Ill., on Wednesday ONLY, Sept. 15, 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. The public is invited.

You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Is a small hearing aid practical?

FOR YEARS, hearing aid manufacturers have tried, without success, to find a small hearing aid that was truly practical. Workable models distorted tone qualities, eliminated certain sounds, added a "tinny" tone to sounds that did penetrate.

NOW, with the aid of new sub-miniature electronic transistors, Telex has designed a Telemite All-Transistor Hearing Aid—a truly practical instrument that has all the power, all the tone quality in a case less than one-half the size of previous transistor hearing aids.

TELEMITE is the smallest efficient hearing aid on the market today—efficient because it offers the finest possible tone quality plus the now famous transistor savings. Telemite may be worn invisibly by women and inconspicuously by men. It can be worn in the hair, beneath clothing, in pockets, under ties, or on the wrist like a watch. Stop in today and let your Telex Consultant give you a Free Demonstration.

Antonelli Hurls 1-0 Shut Out Over Cards

Kluszewski May Break Wilson's Homer Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, Leo Durocher's "meal ticket," put the New York Giants further along the road to the National League pennant Monday with a neat five-hitter for a 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The triumph, Antonelli's 21st of the campaign, extended the Giants' pacesetter margin to 3½ games over second-place Brooklyn and five other Milwaukee in third place. Brooklyn is idle Monday.

The lone tally of the game came in the opening inning. With two out, Willie Mays blooped a double to right and scored on a single to the same area by Dusty Rhodes.

Antonelli, who pitched two innings in relief against Cincinnati last Saturday, was superb, particularly after the fourth inning. He held the hard-hitting Cards hitless after that frame, allowing only Stan Musial to reach base on a ninth-inning walk.

The shutout was the young left-hander's sixth of the year. He also pitched his league earned run lead, with 60 earned runs in 244 innings for a 2.21 mark.

Rookie Gordon Jones, a curve-balling right-hander, pitched well for the losers. He allowed eight hits in the seven frames he worked. Alpha Brazle finished up.

Eliot Makes Three Promotions

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Three promotions were made by Coach Fay Eliot at Illinois Monday as rewards for good work in Saturday's scrimmage when the Illini's first two teams scored 11 touchdowns.

Sophomore quarterback Hiles Stout of Peoria, Ill., who tossed five touchdown passes, was moved up from the third team to share the No. 2 spot with injured Bob Gonzales.

End Dean Renn, a fourth team end, shares first string left end post with Herb Badal, who has been hurt.

Mike Gubman, Chicago sophomore, was shifted to No. 2 center.

Cleveland Orders Tickets Printed

Winchester Opens Season Friday With Mt. Sterling

CLEVELAND (AP)—The winningest team in Cleveland Indian history ordered tickets printed for the World Series Monday while groundskeepers at Municipal Stadium tested flagpole lanyards for the American League pennant which is sure to fly there.

Manager Al Lopez, now just three victories from a mathematical cinch, decided to bench three injured Indians for Tuesday night's game against Washington but still insisted the Tribe would try to break a league record set in 1927 by the New York Yankees.

The Yankees won 110 games that year. To tie that mark, the Indians would have to win 6 of their remaining 10 games. The 104 victories they reached Sunday by sweeping a double bill with the Yankees is the most ever for a Cleveland club.

Lopez, who said he would keep his first line pitchers working for the rest of the season, decided to give rests to Larry Doby, Al Rosen and Dave Philley, all of whom played Sunday despite sore legs.

Another to get a rest is Jim Hegan who caught both Sunday games.

Possibly the pennant will be clinched by Wednesday night — if the Indians beat the Nats Tuesday and New York drops its next two games, at Detroit.

The Indians' front office declined to say immediately how fans can go about ordering series tickets, although it is believed the system will be similar to 1948 when each was allowed to buy two.

To the Indians the most satisfying thing about Sunday's double win was that it left the Indians even with the Yankees for the season, each with 11 victories. Fifty-four of the Tribe's wins have been from second division clubs and the Indians don't like to think they took the pennant only by "beating the bums."

The only team they don't hold an edge over is Chicago. The White Sox lead 10-9 with three games to play.

Housewife Eliminates Claire Doran In Gal's Amateur Golf Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY
PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 43-year-old Baltimore housewife put the first big puncture in the Women's National Amateur Golf Championship Monday when she eliminated the pre-tournament favorite, Claire Doran of Cleveland.

Mrs. Maurice Glick, a onetime schoolteacher, shattered Miss Doran's hopes with heart-breaking steadiness to win an opening round match 4 and 3.

Outside of this abrupt dismissal of the attractive Curtis Cup star from Ohio, form went virtually unscathed in the 17 first round and 55 second round matches played under ideal conditions over the short and sporty Allegheny Country Club course.

The defending champion, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., won 10 straight holes from nervous Mary Nelson of Manoa, Pa., and scoring an almost unheard-of 10 and 8 victory.

Oldtimers could recall only one other time such a feat was achieved in this 59-year-old event or any other major championship. In 1936, Patty Berg won a first round match from Mrs. Myron Davey at Wilmette, Ill., by similar stretch of winning holes.

Later in the afternoon, Mrs. Carmen DeConen of San Andres, Argentina, one of the several international stars in the field, won a 9 and 8 match from Mrs. Nancy Lewis of Warren, Ohio.

With the elimination of Miss Doran, the favorite's role fell immediately upon Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., five times Southern champion, and Frances (Bunt) Stephens, the British amateur queen. Both won their second round matches.

Miss Riley turned back 19-year-old Barbara McIntyre of Toledo, Ohio, on the 19th hole. Miss Stephens from Lancashire, England, defeated Jane Martin of Oakmont, Pa., 2 and 1.

Dave Jolly Stars In Relief As Braves Beat Phils 7-4

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Around 100 coaches and officials from this area attended the annual rules meeting at the High School last night. Most of the comment concerned the rules changes. One rule change we noted was the use of the rubber ball.

It seems as though the rubber ball can be used by one or both teams. However, if a team starts using this type ball at the beginning of a half it must use the same ball throughout that half. We might note that the team must start using the ball at the beginning of the half or not at all. You can't start anytime you feel like it.

Another change is in the try for extra point. Before if a defensive team penalty occurred, the team trying for the point declined the penalty took the extra point and that was all there was to it. Under the new ruling, the penalty will be carried over to the next play, which is the kickoff.

Other changes are: an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty will be inflicted at the beginning of the second half if the foul took place on the last play of the first half; time starts when the ball is snapped or when a free kick is made; and every player must be within 15 yards of the ball sometime before the ball is snapped.

Another change is the one on defensive holding. It used to be five yards and now it is 15. Another rule the interpreter spent considerable time on is the one involving an illegal forward pass. A forward pass is declared illegal and a five yards penalty is inflicted if the pass is deflected by an offensive lineman. That is if he hits at the ball with his hands.

Illinois College held its first workout yesterday. The Bluebucs held two drills. The first practice was at 9 in the morning and Coach Al Miller called the boys back at 2 in the afternoon.

Among those making opening appearances were: Fred Goodey, Glenn Beamer, Bob Scott, Dick Barnes, Dean Duckwiler, Dick Capotosto, William Horsley, Kenneth Viereck, Gary Curtis, William Furman, Richard Farmer, Harry Menckelkamp, Jim Frame, Bob Winsland, Charles McKenzie, Harold Taylor, Donald Hazelrigg, Albert Decker and Roy Hess.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The struggling Milwaukee Braves, behind the airtight relief pitching of Dave Jolly, defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 Monday night to stay 4½ games behind the first-place New York Giants.

Playing without their two top sluggers, Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock, the Braves broke the game open in the eighth inning when they scored four runs on two hits, three walks, a sacrifice, and a hit batter, off southpaw Curt Simmons.

Jolly, who won his ninth game in 15 decisions, was in complete control after he relieved starter Jim (No-Hit) Wilson in the fourth inning. The 30-year-old right-hander faced only 20 men in the six-inning mound stint.

Two DuSable Stars Enter Indiana U.

CHICAGO (AP)—Paxton Lumpkin and Charlie Brown, stars of the great DuSable High School basketball team of Chicago last season, have enrolled at Indiana University. DuSable Coach Jim Brown said Monday.

Shelle McMillon and Curley Johnson, two other members of the Chicago Public League championship team, have enrolled at Bradley, Brown said.

McMillon was the high scorer of the Illinois State Tournament at Champaign with 95 points in four games. DuSable was runner-up in the state meet.

Lumpkin and Brown were named to the all-state team and the former also was chosen the most valuable player in the tourney.

QUINCY BEATS PEORIA
PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Quincy defeated Peoria 5 to 1 Monday night for its second victory in the Three-I League Shaughnessy playoffs.

Billy Bethel, the winning pitcher, gave up six hits.

The Gems scored one run in the first inning, then clinched the game with a four-run eighth inning on 4 singles, a double and a walk.

The two teams meet tomorrow night in Quincy for the third game of the best of five series. Quincy has won two games, Peoria lost two.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The struggling Milwaukee Braves, behind the airtight relief pitching of Dave Jolly, defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 Monday night to stay 4½ games behind the first-place New York Giants.

Playing without their two top sluggers, Eddie Mathews and Joe Adcock, the Braves broke the game open in the eighth inning when they scored four runs on two hits, three walks, a sacrifice, and a hit batter, off southpaw Curt Simmons.

Jolly, who won his ninth game in 15 decisions, was in complete control after he relieved starter Jim (No-Hit) Wilson in the fourth inning. The 30-year-old right-hander faced only 20 men in the six-inning mound stint.

Iowa Locks Doors

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The University of Iowa Hawkeyes practiced behind locked gates, with all spectators barred, Monday for the first time this year.

Coach Forest Evashevski declined to disclose what the squad worked on in the secret session.

In the afternoon the squad worked on pass plays, then scrimmaged for a half hour.

Willie Mays Only One Point Behind Snider In National Bat Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Willie Mays, the hustling New York Giants outfielder who is swinging for base hits instead of home runs, is only one point behind Brooklyn's Duke Snider in the competition for the National League batting title.

Mays collected two hits in the Giants' 1-0 victory over the St. Louis Cards Monday to bring his average to .341. Snider and the Dodgers were idle and Duke's mark remained at .342.

Willie has not hit a homer since he walked No. 39 Aug. 29.

In the American League, Bobby Avila, sparking Cleveland's front-running Indians, increased his lead with a three-point gain to .340 while his closest competitors were slumping.

Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox moved into second place with a four-point climb to .327 while Irv Noren of the New York Yankees fell to third at .325. Minnie had 10-for-24 last week and Noren only 2-for-16.

Stan Musial of the Cards, seeking his seventh National League championship, still is within range of the leaders. He is hitting .335.

Don Mueller of the Giants and Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski are deadlocked for fourth at .332.

Kluszewski is the circuit's leader in home runs with 48 and in runs batted in with 132.

Nellie Fox of the White Sox held onto fourth place in the American League batting race. He moved up one point to .322. The Yankees' Yogi Berra is fifth with .310.

Berra took over the runs batted in lead from Cleveland's Larry Doby, 115-114. But the Cleveland outfielder maintained his home run edge with 30.

Boston's Ted Williams finds his chances for a fifth American League batting crown diminishing rapidly. He has slumped 18 points since Labor Day and shows a .341 average with 343 at bats.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The corporate bond market was narrowly mixed in slow trading Monday. Treasury securities eased.

Investment quality corporates, especially industrials and utilities, gave ground moderately. But more speculative issues, like medium grade railroads, convertible and income obligations, developed selective support.

Changes in the corporate list were small as volume totaled $2,340,000 par value compared with $2,290,000 Friday. Gains extended to three points at one time but narrowed to a point and a half by the close. Losses were limited to fractions.

Hog Market Is Again Depressed; Cattle, Lambs Up

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, Ill.—The hog market experienced a steep decline during the week, while higher prices prevailed for cattle and lambs, according to the Producers Live Stock Marketing Association. Receipts were of good volume in all departments.

Hog values were cut sharply and in one stage of trading rested at a new low in 19 months. Net losses for the week were $1.00 to $1.60 on barrows and gilts, and 75 cents to $1.00 on packing sows. Friday's top of $20.25 cwt. compared with a peak of $21.35 a week ago. Slowdowns and walkouts at a few packing plants in Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado proved an unsettling factor at times.

Many cattle were up 50 cents under a broad inquiry, which raised the steer top to $25.50. Most choice steers cashed at $23 to $24.50; good and low choice $20.50 to $22.75. Stocker and feeder cattle continued to receive a good call at stronger rates, and veal calves were steady until late when pressure developed on other than choice grades.

Spring lambs were mostly 50 cents and extremes $1 higher, late sales choice and prime mostly $20.50 to $21, a few $21.25 and $21.50. A liberal showing of good and choice kinds on the close brought $19 to $20. Several lots of good to prime short springers realized $19 to $20.

Cooler weather contributed to a higher dressed trade at wholesale centers. Chicago reported gains for the week of 1 to 2 1/2 cents a pound on steer and heifer beef; 1 to 2 cents on veal and calf; 3 cents on spring lamb and 8 to 9 cents on pork loins.

In a Vocational-Agriculture Marketing Day program sponsored by stockyards interests, 270 Missouri and Illinois boys belonging to Future Farmers of America Chapters consigned 1,327 head of cattle and lambs which sold for more than $120,000. Ralph Seibert of the Belleville, Ill., Township High School took high honors in the grading contest. Schools winning plaques for having the most outstanding exhibits were Paris, Mo., two, Marshall, Mo., and Keytesville, Mo.

ALL GRAINS DROP WITH SOYBEANS

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—The prospect of the largest soybean crop on record proved too much for bean prices on the Board of Trade Monday. They fell sharply and carried everything else down with them.

September soybeans dropped 10 cents, the daily limit. It hit that level shortly after the noon hour and continued offered at that price until the close. Other beans futures lost around 5 to 6 cents.

Wheat and rye showed early strength and oats were quite steady. But they all turned lower before the finish. Corn was weak from the start on liberal cash grain receipts and good crop prospects.

Wheat closed 1 1/4-1 3/4 lower, corn 2 1/2-3 lower, oats 1/4-1 1/2 lower, soybeans 5 1/4 to 10 cents lower and laid 13 to 65 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Main reason for the debacle in soybeans was the government crop report issued after the market closed last Friday. This forecast a soybean crop of 324,713,000 bushels, up 21,136,000 bushels from the forecast a month earlier. Last year's harvest totaled 262,341,000 bushels.

With a bigger crop coming up, soybeans are selling higher now than they did at this time last year. The November contract closed at $2.69 1/2 today but a year ago it was $2.64.

September bore the brunt of the liquidation, partly because of trade reports between 600,000 and 750,000 bushels of beans had been purchased on a to-arrive basis at Decatur over the weekend. Crude soybean oil broke sharply, selling at 13 1/4 cents against 13 1/2 Friday.

Next to soybeans, corn was the weakest cereal. Here, too, the government crop report inspired most of the selling, although receipt of 501 cars of cash corn added to the drop. Cash prices were 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower.

The government forecast a corn crop of 2,972,641,000 bushels compared with an estimate of 2,824,078,000 a month earlier.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy demand in key areas Monday sent the stock market ahead strongly.

The forward swing was the best effort the market has made in the two-week recovery drive following the recent big break.

On average the market now is nearing the highest point of the year scored Aug. 20. That was the peak since October 1929.

One factor in the rise in the averages was the booming gain of 5 1/4 at 78 1/2 in Goodyear Tire, a component in the averages. Some brokers cited reports of excellent earnings and rumors of a stock split as causes for the spurt, but many said they are unable to account for the strength. The company had no comment.

The market started in a fairly ordinary manner. Demand first spread through the coppers and oils. By the time that died down, buying attention shifted to the steels, motors, railroads and many industrial favorites.

The industrial component of the average (which includes Goodyear) was up $1.90 at a new high mark of $182.40. The railroads were ahead $1.20, and utilities were up 10 cents.

As a general rule, gains extended to between one and three points at the outside while losses went down to around a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.20 at $134.20. That is the best the average has done since mid-August when it was pushing ahead strongly to its peak of the year Aug. 20.

The average now is only 70 cents away from the top which goes back to Oct. 22, 1929.

Volume was good. It amounted to 2,030,000 shares, the first time in around two weeks that it has crossed the two million mark. Friday's business came to 1,870,000.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 710,000 shares as compared with 810,000 Friday.

Blundy Cops 25-Mile Stock Car Feature

Before some 4,500 racing fans Jerry Blundy finished strong to capture the 25-mile stock car race at the Morgan County Fairgrounds Sunday afternoon.

The 50-lap event on the half mile track was stopped after the first 15-laps when Page Baker clammed into the fence on the Northeast curve. It was after the re-start had taken place that Blundy roared into the lead and kept it the entire race.

The Galesburg driver's closest rival was Francis Kelly. Kelly came close to passing Blundy on the 46th lap but couldn't quite get the job done.

Twenty-eight cars started and a large field of 21 finished. The early lead went to Tiger Ray Black. However the man in number 7 lost the first spot to car 189 just before the race was halted after the crash.

The fastest time trial and the four car dash race went to Earl Setser. Setser timed at 28:09 to top the time trial award and came back to run the two-miles in 2:01:94 to take the first race of the day.

Jerry Blundy, who had a very busy day, also took the number one spot in the semi-feature. In this race Blundy drove car number ed and pitched to others from centerfield and second base. Although the local boys collected several hits, Eddie Feigner proved to be pretty tough when he wanted to be.

Jack McNeely homered for the local nine in the seventh inning while Dale Heaton added two triples to the Elevator cause. Bob Lewis collected a double with Don Hazelrigg and Angelo adding singles.

The four-man team's shortstop, Mellicke, homered in the seventh. In the preliminary game, the Jacksonville Pony Leaguers defeated Arenzville 11-1. Norvell hurried for the winners giving up just three hits, two in the first inning.

JIM DUNN lifted his six-foot three-inch body from the office chair. His wide but sloping shoulders gave him a deceptive air of slenderness.
He was deeply tanned, and his gray eyes were sparkling with an added touch of humor.

"I believe you will be able to pass," the woman said. "And the name is Mrs. Carlson, not Carson."

"I see. And the passing you mentioned is, I hope, at least into the second grade?"
"Humor, I suppose," she said.
"I have been told many times
I have no sense of humor."

Jim decided she was actually serious. "Business then. What did you want to see me about?"
"You were recommended to me by the San Francisco Police."
"That would be Steve Johnson? He's the only one I know personally there. Captain Steve Johnson. Jim flicked her a searching glance and added, "Of Homicide."

"Yes."
"How is Captain Johnson?
And his charming wife? You know it's an odd thing but Johnson's wife is named Nan. My wife is named Nancy. Odd, isn't it?"

"I did not come here to discuss the private life of a San Francisco policeman. Or yours. I wanted a reasonably honest detective agency here in Denver. I inquired of my local police."
"Fame," Jim said, and let it go at that.

Mrs. Carlson went on. "The job I have in mind may take as long as a month. Two weeks, I would say as a minimum. You will have to go to the mountains with me, stay up there. If that is impossible, please say so now."

Jim thought of his bride of less than a month. He said slowly, "Going is possible, but is your job?"

She frowned. "I've managed to rub your fur the wrong way.
I often have that effect on people.
However, I am willing to pay well to get what I want."

"Suppose you tell me what you do want?"

"I want protection. And I want you to get something on my mother-in-law."

JIM'S eyes opened wide. "That's blunt enough," he admitted.
"Do you want to start off by telling me something about your trouble in San Francisco?"

"Certainly. Mrs. Carlson, you've said you had no personal interest in Captain Johnson. And, even though you may be quite influential, you don't get the head of Homicide when you phone for a recommendation of a private detective agency. So your contact with Steve Johnson must have been professional."

"You show signs of having a certain crude intelligence," Jim said.

For the first time Jim Carlson appeared to be having difficulty in putting her thoughts into words. "Have you heard of the Carlson family of Denver? The J. Oswald Carlsons? The J. Hilton Carlsons?"

"Yes."
"The grandson, J. Peter Carlson, is my husband."

She glanced at her wrist watch, went on quickly, "The Carlson family is a matriarchy. Old
Mrs. Oswald Carlson has control of the money and is correspondingly despotic. She rather ignores me, which is all right. But Mrs. Hilton Carlson, my mother-in-law. She's the one."

"That sort of thing?"
"There is always a young man around my mother-in-law. You'll understand when you see her. Do you have ethics, by any chance?"

"Sometimes," Jim admitted.
"Then you will want to know any evidence you might get on Mrs. Hilton. Will be used only in a family conference."

"There's one little thing," Jim pointed out. "Just how am I to be explained in this Carlson plot?"

"I am—ah—buying a place nearby. Under another name.
You are to act as my caretaker.
That is what I meant when I said I thought you would pass. In different clothes you could be a caretaker. And you should have no difficulties in establishing friendly relations with the servants on the Carlson estate."

"I see. For the first time he had the impression she was hiding something. "It might be more

Republican Candidates Visit Morgan; Blast Douglas As 'Socialist'

Democratic "prophets of gloom and doom" took it on the chin once more as Illinois Republicanism's 1954 banner-bearers addressed an overflow crowd in Nichols Park dining hall last night.

Speaking before a partisan gathering estimated at more than 400 persons were Joseph T. Meek, GOP nominee for United States senator, Vernon L. Nickell, candidate for state school superintendent and Warren Wright, state treasurer hopeful. The Jacksonville session ended the first day of a five week downstate campaign tour for the three major Illinois Republican candidates in November's election.

Cong. Simpson Wins Tribute By Eisenhower

Congressman Sid Simpson of Carrollton has received a letter from President Dwight Eisenhower who is vacationing in Colorado.

In his letter dated at Denver, Colo., the President expressed his gratitude to Representative Simpson for his contribution to the outstanding success of the Eighty-Third Congress.

The letter follows:

"The Hon. Sid Simpson, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sid:

"The vacation to which I am now looking forward will be much more enjoyable if I can be sure, first, that I have expressed to you my deep gratitude for your important contribution to the outstanding success of the Eighty-Third Congress.

"You have every reason for pride in the job you have done as Chairman of the District Committee and in your contribution to the success of the farm program. The country needs your kind of dedication activity—the kind of activity I mentioned at Springfield on the nineteenth—certainly I hope that we shall continue to have the benefit of your counsel and experience for many future years. I look forward to seeing you again when you return to Washington.

With warm regard, Sincerely,
Dwight D. Eisenhower."

SPEAKERS' TABLE AT CATHOLIC WOMEN'S BANQUET—A section of the speakers' table at the banquet held Sunday by the Springfield Diocesan Council of Catholic Women (L to R) Monsignor F. F. Formaz, pastor of the Church of Our Saviour, Jacksonville; Mrs. C. J. Brahl, Springfield, treasurer of Diocesan Women; Mrs. Sib Thoele, Effingham, who was elected president; Mrs. John A. Harmon, Wood River, retiring president; Bishop Charles H. Helmsing, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis; Mrs. R. A. Soner of Jacksonville, toastmistress, Rev. Father John A. McGrath, Springfield, moderator.

Catholic Women Of Diocese Convene In City, Attend Banquet

"Let us consecrate ourselves to the Immaculate Heart of Mary, acknowledging that we are her children and that we love her as we love our earthly mothers," Bishop Charles H. Helmsing, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis, told members and guests of the Springfield Diocesan Council of Catholic Women at their banquet Sunday evening.

The banquet served at Formaz Hall brought to a close the two-day 26th annual convention.

"Our Blessed Mother must be happy with the tribute we have paid her in this convention," Reverend John McGrath, moderator, said in his closing remarks. "We have surpassed in many ways last year's Silver Jubilee Convention, and although I did not expect that, I'm sure that it is due to the fact that in this Marian year, we chose the theme, Blessed Be the Name of Mary, Virgin and Mother, and that this banquet takes place on the Feast of the Holy Name of Mary."

Mrs. August Desch, Chicago NCOW provincial director, and Mrs. Walter Scherer, Ottawa, president of the Peoria Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, spoke briefly.

Mrs. Michael Enright, Carrollton, who together with Monsignor F. F. Formaz of this city was an honored guest, pronounced the benediction.

Mrs. Harmon Presides

Mrs. John A. Harmon, retiring president of the Council, presided at the opening of the meeting which followed the banquet and presented Beth Beneschneider and Judy Minks who modeled Italian First Communion outfits made by women of the diocese in carrying out this year's project for filling the Holy Father's storeroom. The models carried little white baskets among the tables and collected cash donations for the project.

Mrs. Harmon read a telegram from Mrs. William N. Dalton of Augusta, Me., national president, and Rev. Father John McGrath brought greetings from Bishop William O'Connor, bishop of Springfield, who is enroute to Rome for his ad limina visit to the Holy Father.

Mrs. Harmon also introduced Mrs. R. A. Soner of this city, recently elected president of the Jacksonville Diocesan Council, who served as toastmaster for the evening.

Mrs. Paul Langdon and Miss Dorothy Doolin of Murrayville and Miss Celeste Flynn of this city sang, a capella, O Sacram Convivium and Salutation by Ganes.

Charles Blesse designed and executed the background painting which illustrated the theme of the convention. A pair of hands telling the beads of a rosary was depicted emerging from a rose and surrounded by the words Ave Maria, Mater Dei.

Shrines to the Blessed Mother were used as table decorations. Columns of blue, white, and silver were used with statues ranging in size from six inches to the two-foot one which served as the centerpiece for the speakers' table. Mrs. Angelo Pessina and Mrs. George Regan assisted the committee in the preparation of the tables.

Mrs. Kate Doyle, Mrs. Joseph T. Doyle, Mrs. Francis Clancy, Mrs. Roger Jacques, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ring, Mrs. Frances Loneragan, Mrs. Lawrence Flynn, Mrs. Mary Minks, and Cele McCarty assisted Mr. and Mrs. C. J. KIWANIANS FIER DAD, DA! EXHIBIT

Seventy-five baby pictures were on display at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club, and members viewed likenesses of themselves and other members. Several prizes were awarded for being the most photogenic, homeliest, and showing the most striking changes since babyhood.

The members lined up to view the gallery, attempting to identify the pictures, though identification proved very difficult. Quite a few of the Kiwanians were unable to spot their own likenesses.

Dr. A. B. Applebee, who had charge of the novel program, said that he had been working on the preparation of the baby exhibit for two years. He succeeded, he said, only with the connivance of the wives of the Kiwanians.

16 Year Old Boy Wounds Foot In Rifle Accident

Richard Pessina, 16, of 414 North Laurel Drive, was in good condition Monday at Our Saviour's hospital where he was taken Sunday after he was accidentally shot in the right foot by his own .22 caliber rifle.

The accident occurred while Pessina and companions were target shooting at tin cans on the Murphy farm near Murrayville, where they had been hunting squirrels.

Pessina was holding his rifle at the side when it slipped and started to fall. As he grabbed for it he touched the trigger and the rifle was discharged.

Members of his family said the bullet shattered some bones, but that the injury is not severe. The young man is expected to be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

Pessina is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Pessina, and is a senior in Rount High school.

Prestressed Concrete Pipe To Be Used; Open Bids For Bonds Today

Contracts for construction of Jacksonville's 23 mile water transmission line from the Illinois river and auxiliary equipment were awarded to four firms by the city council last night as it moved swiftly along with business after voting 6 to 3 to use prestressed concrete pipe.

The majority of councilmen voted in concurrence with recommendations of engineers, attorneys, and the Citizen's Water Committee, an advisory group appointed by the mayor.

Mayor Hoagland read a statement in which he said that "in the interest of harmony and economy, I will change my position and support the resolution to award the contracts as recommended in the engineers' report." Hoagland had previously been a strong advocate of cast iron pipe.

In the presence of a large assembly of citizens, including a number of members of the advisory water committee, the council voted to award pipe line contracts as follows:

Contract A. For the furnishing of the materials for a 24 and 30 inch transmission line of prestressed concrete. Price Brothers Pipe & Construction Co., Dayton, Ohio, base bid $1,366,136.

Contract B. Installation of water transmission line. Torson Construction Co., Kansas City, Mo., base bid $433,026.

Contract C. Construction of horizontal water collector (well in the gravel bed near Naples) Ranney Methods Water Supplies, Inc., Columbus, Ohio, base bid $177,000.

Contract E. Pumping station and equipment. Caldwell Engineering Co., Jacksonville, base bid $166,560.

Resolution Adopted

The resolution determining the lowest bidders and awarding contracts was adopted on a motion by Alderman Merriman, seconded by Alderman Chumley.

The resolution to determine the type of material for the transmission line precipitated the longest discussion and revealed a sharp division of opinion among councilmen. Spokesmen for both prestressed concrete and cast iron pipe had been given 10 minutes each to discuss the merits of these particular types of pipe.

Special Counsel Orville N. Foreman read a resolution determining prestressed concrete as the material to be used, after which a motion to adopt was made by Alderman Baker, seconded by Alderman May.

Mayor Hoagland then commented that the council was about to make a momentous decision. He said the steps about to be taken were probably the most important to the welfare of the city in its 125 year history. The mayor read his statement in which he supported the recommendation of engineers, attorneys, and the Citizens' Water Committee.

"Lowest Not Always Best"

Alderman Rowe reminded the council that the lowest bid is not always the best. He charged that the bid of a local contractor was not given proper consideration, and that preference was shown in permitting one company to revise its bid.

Special Counsel Foreman replied that no partiality had been shown, and that all bids were in order. Rowe announced his preference for cast iron pipe.

On roll call the vote was:

Yes—Aldermen Baker, Chumley, Kelly, May, and Merriman and Mayor Hoagland.

No — Aldermen Allen, Mathews, and Rowe.

On motion of Alderman Rowe, seconded by Alderman Merriman, the council voted to accept documents tendered by the Caldwell Engineering Co., and added to its proposal. Seven aldermen and the mayor voted in the affirmative, with Alderman Mathews voting "present."

Additions Explained

The special counsel had previously explained the nature of the additions, which were required to complete the bid.

At the start of the session the council heard 10 minute talks by Harry Price of Price Brothers Pipe & Construction Co., and Thomas Wolfe, representing the cast iron pipe industry.

A resolution determining the size of the pipe line to be a 24 and 30 inch combination passed unanimously on motions by Aldermen Chumley and Merriman.

Attorney Foreman announced that bids for sale of general obligation bonds with which to partly finance the project will be opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The council will hold an adjourned meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening to act on sale of the bonds, after the bids have been evaluated earlier in the afternoon.

In explanation of his support of the concrete pipe resolution Mayor Hoagland read the following statement:

Mayor's Statement

"Gentlemen of the Council:

"On Friday night, September 10, 1954, after hearing a report and recommendation of our Engineers in which they recommended the use of pre-stressed concrete pipe for our transmission line, I made a statement in which I very definitely went on record as favoring the use of cast iron pipe. Almost immediately after the report of our engineer, the Citizen's Committee voted unanimously to endorse the report and recommended pre-stressed concrete.

"Realizing that this is no doubt the most difficult problem that has ever faced a City Council in Jacksonville, the final decision has not been easy.

"Thinking into the future of our city and taking into account that by 1960, or thereabouts, our water purification plant will need to be enlarged and, also as the city grows and expands there will no doubt, be need for expansion at our sewage disposal plants. With these thoughts in mind, endeavoring to complete the water transmission line that was so overwhelmingly endorsed by the voters and yet leaving to future councils the means to finance other improvements, I feel that we should re-examine the situation.

"According to the bids received it would cost $236,022 more to install cast iron than it would to use prestressed concrete. Naturally, it is our obligation to the people we represent to build this line as economically as possible, consistent with good engineering advice.

"With the above thought in mind and not wanting to oppose the recommendations of either the engineers or the Citizens Committee, and in the interest of harmony and economy, I will change my position and support the resolution to award the contracts as recommended in the engineers' report."
